UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

KACEY WILSON, individually and on behalf of all other persons similarly situated,

Plaintiff,

v.

COLOURPOP COSMETICS, LLC,

Defendant.

Case No.:

CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT

JURY TRIAL DEMANDED

Plaintiff Kacey Wilson (“Plaintiff”) brings this Class Action against ColourPop Cosmetics, LLC (“ColourPop” or “Defendant”), individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated. The allegations herein are based on personal knowledge as to Plaintiff’s own conduct and are made on information and belief as to all other matters based on an investigation by counsel.

NATURE OF THE ACTION

1. This is a civil class action concerning Defendant’s design, formulation, manufacture, marketing, advertising, distribution, and sale of eye makeup that contains color additives and ingredients that are dangerous when used on the immediate eye area.

2. The products at issue include eyeshadow palettes (which Defendant sometimes refers to and promotes as, inter alia, “shadow palettes,” “pigment palettes,” or “pressed powder palettes”) and eyeliner products that are formulated with and/or contain certain color additives that are not safe for use in the eye area (collectively “ColourPop Eye Makeup” or “Products”). Specifically, the Products are inherently dangerous because they are formulated with and/or contain the following color additives: FD&C Red No. 4; D&C Red No. 6, 7, 17, 21, 22, 27, 28, 30, 31, 33, 34, 36; D&C Violet No. 2; Ext. D&C Violet No. 2; FD&C Yellow No. 6; D&C Yellow No. 7, 8, 10, 11; Ext. D&C Yellow No. 7; D&C Orange No. 4, 5, 10, 11; D&C Green No. 6, 8; FD&C Green No. 3; D&C Brown No. 1; and/or D&C Blue No. 4 (the “Harmful Ingredients”).<sup>1</sup>

3. The United States Food and Drug Administration (“FDA”) is responsible for approving individual color additives and setting usage restrictions. In addition to being inherently dangerous, each of the Harmful Ingredients is designated by the FDA as unsuitable and unapproved for cosmetic use in the eye area.<sup>2</sup>

4. The presence of one or more Harmful Ingredients renders the Products unsafe for use in the eye area (the “Defect”). The Products are thus adulterated and misbranded under the federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetics Act (“FDCA”). Accordingly, it is unlawful for Defendant to advertise, promote, market, or sell ColourPop Eye Makeup. Nonetheless, Defendant’s marketing, <sup>1</sup> Here, and throughout, the term “Products” shall refer to any item sold by Defendant for use in the eye area that contains one or more Harmful Ingredients.

1 advertising, public statements, and social media posts and videos, encourage and instruct
2 consumers to use the Products in the eye area.

3 5. Defendant markets ColourPop Eye Makeup for a purpose (cosmetic application
4 around the eye area) for which it cannot be used for both legally and because such use is inherently
5 dangerous. The Products cannot be used for their principal intended purpose. The Products are 6 thus worthless by virtue of the Defect.

7 6. Defendant has undertaken a deliberate and willful pattern of conduct (including 8 taking active measures) aimed at deceiving consumers, including Plaintiff, into believing that 9 ColourPop Eye Makeup is safe for its intended use: cosmetic application around the eye area.

10 7. At all relevant times, Defendant knew about the Defect and that the Products were 11 banned by the FDA, but nevertheless marketed, advertised, and sold ColourPop Eye Makeup for 12 use around the eyes without warning consumers of the known dangers.

13 8. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's misleading conduct, concealment of 14 the Defect, and failure to adequately warn consumers about the presence of the Harmful
15 Ingredients and the fact that the Products are banned by the FDA, Plaintiff and other similarly 16 situated consumers ("Class" or "Class Members") purchased and/or used the Product to their 17 detriment.

18 9. Plaintiff and putative Class Members were unaware of the Defect and that the 19 Products are banned by the FDA at the time they purchased the Products. Had Plaintiff and Class
20 Members known that ColourPop Eye Makeup contains a Defect rendering it unfit for its intended
21 purpose and that they are banned by the FDA, they would not have purchased the Products or 22 would have paid substantially less for the Products.

23 10. Plaintiff and all putative Class Members purchased ColourPop Eye Makeup which 24 suffered from the same Defect at the point of sale, and poses substantially the same safety risk to 25 Plaintiff, putative Class Members, consumers, and the public.

26 11. All of the Products suffer from the same Defect and are similarly mislabeled and 27 falsely advertised because each of the Products contains one or more ingredients the FDA has 28 deemed not fit for use around the eye area.

12. Plaintiff and each putative Class Member have been damaged and suffered an injury in fact caused by Defendant's false, fraudulent, unfair, deceptive, and misleading practices, as set forth herein, and seek compensatory damages and injunctive relief.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

13. This Court has jurisdiction over the subject matter of this action pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(2), because the matter in controversy exceeds $5,000,000, exclusive of interest and costs, and is a class action in which at least one member of the Class is a citizen of a State different from the Defendant.

14. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendant because Defendant maintains its principal place of business within the State of California and is registered as a limited liability company in the State of California. Furthermore, a substantial portion of the events giving rise to Plaintiff's claims occurred in this State, including Plaintiff's purchase.

15. Venue is proper in this District pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b)(2) and (c) because a substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to Plaintiff's claims occurred in this District, because Defendant transacts business and/or has agents within this District, and because Defendant maintains its principal place of business within the State of California and is registered as a limited liability company in the State of California.

PARTIES

16. Plaintiff Kacey Wilson is a resident of San Francisco, California, who purchased and used ColourPop Eye Makeup within the relevant time period. Specifically, Plaintiff Wilson purchased and used ColourPop's "Boudoir Noir" and "Menage a Muah" eyeshadow palettes, both of which contain the Harmful Ingredients and thus suffer from the Defect.

17. ColourPop Cosmetics, LLC is registered as a limited liability company in the State of California and has its principal place of business at 1451 Vanguard Drive, Oxnard, California 93033. ColourPop designs, formulates, manufactures, markets, advertises, distributes, and sells a wide range of consumer cosmetic products including but not limited to, eyeshadow, eyeliner, eyelid primer, and eyebrow pencils, nationwide, including in California.<sup>3</sup> Defendant’s misleading and unlawful marketing, advertising and product information concerning the Products was conceived, reviewed, approved, and otherwise controlled from Defendant’s California headquarters. Defendant’s misleading marketing concerning the Products was coordinated at, emanated from, and was developed at its California headquarters. All critical decisions regarding the misleading marketing and advertising of the Products were made in California.

THE PRODUCTS

18. ColourPop Eye Makeup is sold at retail locations throughout the United States, including Ulta Beauty stores, and the Products are also available for purchase online at www.colourpop.com and through third-party retailers’ websites.<sup>4</sup>

19. The Products that are the subject of this lawsuit include eyeshadow palettes (which Defendant sometimes refers to as, inter alia, “shadow palettes,” “pigment palettes,” or “pressed powder palettes”), eyeliners (which Defendant sometimes refers to as “liners”), and other categories of products that Defendant has promoted or advertised for use in the eye area during the maximum time period allowed by law.

20. The Products, which are sold online by Defendant at www.Colourpop.com as well as by third-party retailers, are all: (1) advertised and marketed by Defendant for cosmetic use on the eye area; (2) are reasonably understood by consumers to be safe and suitable for use in the eye area; and (3) purchased and used by consumers for cosmetic use on the eye area even though sale for such use is prohibited by FDA regulations.

Defendant’s Eyeshadow Palettes

21. There are currently over 100 different variations of ColourPop Eyeshadow Palettes available for purchase at www.colourpop.com/collections/shadow-palette, many of which are formulated with and contain color additives that are prohibited for use around the eye area.

22. The price of Colourpop Eyeshadow Palettes can range from around $10.00 to $39.00, and each product contains between 4-35 distinct colors or shades (“Color Pans”) which ColourPop often refers to as “pressed powders.”

23. But regardless of what ColourPop calls each eyeshadow palette Product, they are intentionally marketed and sold to be indistinguishable from eyeshadow or eye makeup, their only reasonable and foreseeable use by consumers is cosmetic application in the eye area, and Defendant’s promotional images, tutorials, and other advertising materials instruct and encourage that said products be used for cosmetic application in the eye area.

24. ColourPop also markets, sells, advertises, and promotes other Eye Makeup Products containing the Harmful Ingredients for use on and around the eye area.

25. For example, the ColourPop’s Colour Me Obsessed! crème gel liner vault (an eyeliner) webpage depicts a model using the product in the shades “Good Reef” (pink) and “Catsuit” (teal) in the eye area even though those shades contain Harmful Ingredients.<sup>5</sup>

<sup>5</sup> Specifically, “Good Reef” contains the Harmful Ingredients Red 6 (CI 15850) and Yellow 10 (CI 47005) and “Catsuit” contains the Harmful Ingredient Yellow 10 (CI 47005).

26. The webpage for the Colour Me Obsessed! eyeliner further states “Our super pigmented BFF Crème Gel Liner gives your eyes the prettiest pop of colour.” (see Figure 3), and the Product on the website is found under “Makeup / Eyes / Eye Sets.”<sup>6</sup> Defendant proceeds to explain the Product allows for “comfortable application in the waterline,” which instructs for using the product in an area that comes in direct contact with the eye.

27. In the “Application Tips” section of the Colour Me Obsessed! product’s webpage, Defendant does not have a warning or use restriction listed for the Product.<sup>7</sup> Additionally, there is not a warning in or by the ingredients list, despite the Product containing Harmful Ingredients.

28. Defendant regularly instructs and encourages consumers to use and apply ColourPop Eye Makeup containing the Harmful Ingredients in and around the eye area.

THE PRODUCTS VIOLATE STATE AND FEDERAL REGULATIONS

29. Defendant has engaged in unfair, unlawful, and fraudulent business conduct by formulating, manufacturing, distributing, marketing, advertising, and selling Colourpop Eye Makeup because the Products: (1) contain color additives that make them unreasonably dangerous for their sole and intended purpose; (2) are misbranded, mislabeled, and adulterated; and (3) are illegal to sell, advertise, or promote for cosmetic application and use in the eye area.

30. Both the FDA and California Health & Safety Code tightly regulate color additives for use in cosmetic products.<sup>8</sup>

31. For instance, the FDA states on its website that “If your product . . . contains a color additive, by law<sup>9</sup> you must adhere to requirements for:

- a. Approval. All color additives used in cosmetics (or any other FDA-regulated product) must be approved by FDA. There must be a regulation specifically addressing a substance’s use as a color additive, specifications, and restrictions.
- b. Identity and specifications. All color additives must meet the requirements for identity and specifications stated in the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR).
- c. Use and restrictions. Color additives may be used only for the intended uses stated in the regulations that pertain to them. The regulations also specify other restrictions for certain colors, such as the maximum permissible concentration in the finished product.”<sup>10</sup>

32. Under the FD&C Act, “Except in the case of coal-tar hair dyes, failure to meet U.S. color additives requirements causes a cosmetic to be adulterated.”<sup>11</sup>

33. Pursuant to 21 CFR 70.5(a), Defendant may not use a color additive in products unless the regulation for that additive specifically permits such use. A particular color additive may be safe for one purpose, such as use in lipstick, but unsafe for use for another purpose, such as around the eye area.

34. The FDA defines “area of the eye” as “the area enclosed within circumference of the supra-orbital ridge and the infra-orbital ridge, including the eyebrow, the skin below the eyebrow, the eyelids and the eyelashes, and conjunctival sac of the eye, the eyeball, and the soft areolar tissue that lies within the perimeter of the infra-orbital ridge.”<sup>12</sup>

35. The FDA does not permit the following color additives to be used around the eye area (defined herein as “Harmful Ingredients”):<sup>13</sup>

- FD&C Red No. 4; D&C Red No. 6, 7, 17, 21, 22, 27, 28, 30, 31, 33, 34, 36
- D&C Violet No. 2, Ext. D&C Violet No. 2
- FD&C Yellow No. 6; D&C Yellow No. 7, 8, 10, 11; Ext. D&C Yellow No. 7
- D&C Orange No. 4, 5, 10, 11
- D&C Green No. 6, 8; FD&C Green No. 3
- D&C Brown No. 1
- D&C Blue No. 4

36. Each of the Products is formulated with and contains one or more of the Harmful Ingredients.

37. ColourPop knows that these products are used in the eye area, and intentionally markets them for such purpose. For example, ColourPop states under the application tips section for its “Fade Into Hue” eyeshadow (which contains Harmful Ingredients) to “[use] the pigments on your temples or underneath your brow,” which, by the FDA’s definition, is in the immediate eye area, even though the Products contain Harmful Ingredients.<sup>14</sup>

Any Purported Disclaimer Language on Defendant’s Website Is Not Curative

38. For a portion of the ColourPop Eye Makeup Products, Defendant’s website includes vague language and inconsistent statements such as “* while not intended for use in the immediate eye area, these shades can be used anywhere else on your face or body! we recommend using these shades to enhance your overall look - for example, using the pigments on your temples or underneath your brow.”<sup>15</sup>

39. This is neither a safety warning nor an adequate disclaimer because: (1) it does not assist the consumer in understanding the danger; (2) it is designed and displayed in such a manner that a reasonable consumer would not see, receive, or understand it; (3) it does not actually instruct consumers to not use the product in the eye area, and (4) it specifically instructs consumers to use the Products in the immediate eye area, which includes “underneath your brow.”

40. The substance and placement of any purported disclaimer by Defendant falls far short of being prominent and conspicuous warnings. And, any such purported disclaimers are contrary to other more prominent advertising in which Defendant specifically markets and sells the Products to be used in the eye area.

41. Defendant's purported disclaimers do nothing to assist the consumer in understanding the known risks of using ColourPop Eye Makeup, nor do they suggest that any known dangers exist.

42. Further, to the extent any disclaimer recommends consumers use the Products "on your temples or underneath your brow," such a disclaimer directly contradicts the FDA's standards for what is included in the meaning of "the immediate eye area." (emphasis added)

43. Consumers can navigate through the entire purchasing process online at ColourPop.com or with a third-party seller of the Products without ever encountering Defendant's hidden disclaimer.

44. Further, the Products' promotional images and Defendant's marketing materials undermine and are directly contrary to any such purported disclaimers because models are repeatedly shown wearing specific eyeshadow colors that contain Harmful Ingredients on the eye area.

45. Further, many ColourPop Eye Makeup products have no disclaimer whatsoever even though they are formulated with Harmful Ingredients. For example, Defendant's webpage for its "Of Quartz" Product (which contains the Harmful Ingredient Yellow 10) does not include any warning language, purported disclaimers, or online statements that suggest or otherwise indicate that the product contains Harmful Ingredients (nor does its physical packaging). It does, however, depict a model with the Product on her eye.<sup>16</sup>

Plaintiff's Experience

46. Plaintiff Wilson purchased several of the Products, including but not limited to the Menage a Muah Palette and Boudoir Noir Palette, ("Plaintiff's Purchased Products") for personal cosmetic use. Plaintiff has, within the past 5 years, purchased the Products from the Ulta Beauty or website. Plaintiff's most recent purchase occurred in 2021.

47. Plaintiff Wilson believed that Plaintiff's Purchased Products were safe for their intended use, namely for use around the eye area.

1           48. Plaintiff Wilson reasonably relied on Defendant's representations and omissions
2 when she decided to purchase and use various ColourPop Eye Makeup products, including but not
3 limited to, Menage a Muah Palette and Boudoir Noir Palette for use in the eye area.

4           49. At the time of purchase, Plaintiff Wilson was not aware of any warnings, safety
5 issues, or instructions for use indicating that the Products are not safe or fit for use in the eye area.

6           50. Similarly, Plaintiff Wilson was not aware of any warnings or disclosures that the 7 Menage a Muah Palette and Boudoir Noir Palette contain color additives that the FDA has deemed 8 not safe or fit for use in the eye area.

9           51. The products Plaintiff purchased, like all of the Products at issue in this case are and 10 were: (1) designed, formulated, and/or manufactured with Harmful Ingredients which render them
11 unsafe and unfit for their intended use and purpose (cosmetic application to the eye area); (2) 12 designed, formulated, and manufactured with substandard materials and/or construction which 13 results in them being adulterated and/or misbranded Products that are unlawful to sell; and (3)
14 Defendant deceptively omitted and concealed these and other material facts from Plaintiff Wilson 15 and other reasonable consumers.

16           52. As a result of Defendant's deceptive misrepresentations and fraudulent business
17 practices, Plaintiff Wilson suffered injury and loss of money, including but not limited to: (1)
18 Plaintiff Wilson did not receive any of the advertised benefits as described above; (2) Plaintiff
19 Wilson paid for ColourPop Eye Makeup products that are unsafe by virtue of their design,
20 formulation, construction, or workmanship; and (3) Plaintiff Wilson paid more for ColourPop Eye
21 Makeup products than they are worth because the Products, by virtue of being formulated with 22 and/or containing Harmful Ingredients, are misbranded, mislabeled, adulterated, and worthless.

23           53. If Plaintiff Wilson had known that the Products are unfit for their intended use and 24 defective, and that the representations made by Defendant are false and misleading, she would not 25 have purchased the Products or would have paid substantially less than she did. Therefore,
26 Plaintiff Wilson did not receive the benefit of her bargain.

27           54. Plaintiff will be unable to rely on the Products' marketing and advertising in the 28 future, and so will be unable to purchase the Products in the future, although she would like to if they were reformulated to remove the Harmful Ingredients. Plaintiff continues to purchase eye makeup products, although she does not currently purchase the Products, and intends on purchasing eye makeup products in the future.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

55. Plaintiff brings this action individually and as representatives of all those similarly situated, pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 23, on behalf of the below-defined Class and Subclass:

Class:

All persons residing in the United States who purchased ColourPop Eye Makeup containing Harmful Ingredients during the maximum period permitted by law.

California Subclass:

All members of the Class who purchased ColourPop Eye Makeup containing Harmful Ingredients in California during the maximum period permitted by law.

56. Specifically excluded from these definitions are: (1) Defendant, any entity in which Defendant has a controlling interest, and its legal representatives, officers, directors, employees, assigns and successors; (2) the Judge to whom this case is assigned and any member of the Judge's staff or immediate family; and (3) Class Counsel.

57. Numerosity: The Members of the Classes are so numerous that joinder of all Members is impracticable. While the exact number of putative Class Members is presently unknown, it likely consists of tens of thousands of people geographically disbursed throughout the United States. The number of putative Class Members can be determined by sales information and other records in Defendant's possession. Moreover, joinder of all putative Class Members is not practicable given their numbers and geographic diversity. The Classes are readily identifiable from information and records in the possession of Defendant and their authorized retailers.

58. Typicality: The claims of the representative Plaintiff are typical in that Plaintiff, like all putative Class Members, purchased ColourPop Eye Makeup that was designed, formulated, manufactured, marketed, advertised, distributed, and sold by Defendant. Plaintiff, like all putative Class Members, has been damaged by Defendant's misconduct in that, inter alia, Plaintiff incurred or will continue to incur damages as a result of overpaying for defective ColourPop Eye Makeup which makes the Products inherently dangerous and not fit for its intended use. Furthermore, the

1 factual basis of Defendant's misconduct is common to all putative Class Members because 2 Defendant has engaged, and continues to engage, in systematic fraudulent behavior that was and is
 3 deliberate, includes negligent misconduct, and results in the same injury to all putative Class
 4 Members.

5 59. Commonality: Common questions of law and fact exist as to all putative Class
 6 Members. These questions predominate over questions that may affect only individual Class
 7 Members because Defendant has acted on grounds generally applicable to the Classes. Such 8 common legal or factual questions include, inter alia:

- 9 (a) Whether ColourPop Eye Makeup is defective;
- 10 (b) Whether ColourPop Eye Makeup is defectively designed and/or manufactured;
- 11 (c) Whether ColourPop Eyes Makeup is dangerous;
- 12 (d) Whether Defendant knew or reasonably should have known about the Defect prior to 13 distributing and selling ColourPop Eye Makeup to Plaintiff and the putative Classes;
- 14 (e) Whether Defendant knew or reasonably should have known ColourPop Eye Makeup
 15 was dangerous when Defendant packaged, marketed, advertised, specified, instructed, 16 encouraged, and otherwise represented that ColourPop Eye Makeup was intended for 17 use in the eye area;
- 18 (f) Whether Defendant concealed from, omitted, and/or failed to disclose to Plaintiff and 19 the putative Classes the dangers associated with ColourPop Eye Makeup as a result of 20 the Products' Harmful Ingredients;
- 21 (g) Whether Defendant breached the implied warranty of merchantability and the Song-
 22 Beverly Consumer Warranty Act, relating to ColourPop Eye Makeup;
- 23 (h) Whether Defendant engaged in unfair, unconscionable, or deceptive trade practices by 24 selling and/or marketing defective and/or misbranded ColourPop Eye Makeup;
- 25 (i) Whether Defendant violated Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 17500, et seq. (FAL);
- 26 (j) Whether Defendant violated Civil Code §§ 1750, et seq. (CLRA);
- 27 (k) Whether Defendant violated Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 17200, et seq. (UCL);
- 28

- (l) Whether Plaintiff and the putative Classes are entitled to damages, including compensatory, exemplary, and statutory damages, and the amount of any such damages;
- (m) Whether Defendant should be enjoined from selling and marketing ColourPop Eye Makeup containing Harmful Ingredients;
- (n) Whether Defendant should be enjoined from selling, promoting, and advertising that ColourPop Eye Makeup is safe and fit for use in the eye area when, in fact, the Products contain color additives that are prohibited for use in the eye area, i.e. the Harmful Ingredients; and
- (o) Other issues which may be revealed in discovery

60. Adequate Representation: Plaintiff will fairly and adequately protect the interests of putative Class Members. Plaintiff has no interests that are antagonistic to those of putative Class Members. Plaintiff has retained attorneys experienced in the prosecution of class actions, including consumer and product defect class actions, and Plaintiff intends to prosecute this action vigorously.

61. Injunctive/Declaratory Relief: The elements of Rule 23(b)(2) are met. Defendant will continue to commit the unlawful practices alleged herein, and putative Class Members will remain at an unreasonable and serious safety risk as a result of the Defect. Defendant has acted and refused to act on grounds that apply generally to the putative Classes, such that final injunctive relief and corresponding declaratory relief is appropriate respecting the Classes as a whole.

62. Predominance and Superiority: Plaintiff and putative Class Members have all suffered and will continue to suffer harm and damages as a result of Defendant's unlawful and wrongful conduct. A class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of the controversy. Absent a class action, putative Class Members would likely find the cost of litigating their claims prohibitively high and would therefore have no effective remedy at law. Because of the relatively small size of putative Class Members' individual claims, it is likely that few putative Class Members could afford to seek legal redress for Defendant's misconduct. Absent a class action, putative Class Members will continue to incur damages, and Defendant's misconduct will continue without remedy. Class treatment of common questions of law and fact

1 would also be a superior method to multiple individual actions or piecemeal litigation in that class
 2 treatment will conserve the resources of the courts and the litigants and will promote consistency
 3 and efficiency of adjudication.

4 63. Plaintiff is not aware of any potential issues that would preclude the maintenance of 5 this class action.

6 64. Defendant has acted or refused to act on grounds generally applicable to the putative
 7 Classes, thereby making final injunctive relief or corresponding declaratory relief with respect to 8 the putative Classes appropriate.

9 COUNT I
 10 Breach of Implied Warranty
 11 (Individually and on behalf of the Classes)

12 65. Plaintiff reasserts the allegations set forth in all preceding paragraphs and 13 incorporates such allegations by reference as if fully set forth herein.

14 66. Plaintiff brings this cause of action against Defendant individually and on behalf of 15 the Classes.

16 67. As described above, Plaintiff has standing to pursue this claim because Plaintiff has 17 suffered an injury-in-fact and has lost money or property as a result of Defendant's conduct.

18 68. Defendant was at all relevant times the manufacturer, distributor, warrantor, 19 merchant, and/or seller of the ColourPop Eye Makeup. Defendant knew or had reason to know of 20 the specific use for which the ColourPop Eye Makeup was purchased, as evidenced by Defendant's 21 marketing efforts, website(s), social media accounts, advertisements, and other statements that 22 promote and encourage consumers to use the Products in the eye area.

23 69. By placing the ColourPop Eye Makeup into the stream of commerce, Defendant
 24 provided Plaintiff and Class Members with implied warranties that ColourPop Eye Makeup was 25 merchantable and fit for the ordinary purposes for which it was sold.

26 70. However, the ColourPop Eye Makeup is not fit for its ordinary purpose—use in the
 27 eye area—because it contains ingredients that the FDA has deemed not fit for use around the eye
 28 area.

1           71. The Harmful Ingredients contained in ColourPop Eye Makeup prevent the Products
2 from being safely used for their intended purpose, and thus constitutes a breach of the implied
3 warranty of merchantability. These problems are caused and exacerbated by Defendant's failure to
4 adequately disclose to or warn Plaintiff and consumers of the Defect and that ColourPop Eye
5 Makeup is not safe to use in the eye area. Defendant impliedly warranted that ColourPop Eye
6 Makeup was of merchantable quality and fit for such use. These implied warranties included,
7 among other things: (i) a warranty that ColourPop Eye Makeup manufactured, supplied,
8 distributed, and/or sold by Defendant was safe and reliable for use as eyeshadow, eyeliner, or other
9 cosmetic use in the eye area; and (ii) a warranty that ColourPop Eye Makeup would be fit for its 10 principal and intended use as eye makeup.

11           72. Contrary to the applicable implied warranties, ColourPop Eye Makeup, at the time
12 of sale and thereafter, was not fit for its ordinary and intended purpose of providing Plaintiff and
13 Class Members with a cosmetic product that can be safely applied to the eye area without risk of 14 injury. Instead, ColourPop Eye Makeup suffers from a defective design and/or defective
15 manufacturing, as alleged herein.

16           73. Defendant's conduct described in this complaint constitutes a breach of implied
17 warranties under UCC §§ 2-314 and 2-315, as adopted in whole or in substance by statutes in all 50
18 states and the District of Columbia.

19           74. The ColourPop Eye Makeup was defective at the time of sale when it left the 20 exclusive control of Defendant or its agents.

21           75. Defendant's intended beneficiaries of these implied warranties were ultimately Plaintiff
22 and members of the Classes, not third-party retailers, resellers, or distributors who sold the product.
23 Moreover, Defendant exercised substantial control over which outlets can carry and sell ColourPop Eye
24 Makeup, which are the same places that Plaintiff and Class Members purchased the Products. In
25 addition, Defendant's warranties are in no way designed to apply to the third-party retailers, resellers,
26 or distributors who purchase the Products in bulk and then sell it on an individual basis to consumers.
27 Accordingly, these warranties are specifically designed to benefit the individual consumers who 28 purchased ColourPop Eye Makeup.

76. Plaintiff and Class Members sustained damages as a direct and proximate result of Defendant's breaches in that they paid an amount for the product that they would not have otherwise paid. Plaintiff and the Class also did not receive the value of the product they paid for—the products are worthless or worth far less than Defendant represents due to the Defect.

77. Defendant was provided extensive pre-suit notice of the Defect, and as such has been afforded a reasonable opportunity to cure its breach of warranty. Any additional time to do so would be unnecessary and futile because Defendant has known of and concealed the Defect and has refused to repair or replace the defect free of charge.

78. Plaintiff and the Classes have sustained, are sustaining, and will sustain damages if Defendant continues to engage in such deceptive, unfair, and unreasonable conduct.

79. As a result of the breach of the implied warranty of merchantability, Plaintiff and Class Members are entitled to legal and equitable relief, including injunctive relief, damages, attorneys' fees, litigation expenses and costs, rescission, and/or other relief as deemed appropriate, for an amount to compensate them for not receiving the benefit of their bargain.

COUNT II

Breach of Implied Warranty Under the Song-Beverly Consumer Warranty Act California Civil Code §§ 1790, et seq. (Individually and on behalf of the Classes)

80. Plaintiff reasserts the allegations set forth in all preceding paragraphs and incorporates such allegations by reference as if fully set forth herein.

81. Plaintiff brings this cause of action against Defendant individually and on behalf of the Classes.

82. As described above, Plaintiff has standing to pursue this claim because Plaintiff has suffered an injury-in-fact and has lost money or property as a result of Defendant's conduct.

83. Under the Song-Beverly Consumer Warranty Act, Cal. Civ. Code § 1790, et seq., every sale of consumer goods in California is accompanied by both a manufacturer's and retail seller's implied warranty that the goods are merchantable, as defined in that Act.

1           84. Defendant is in the business of manufacturing, assembling, producing and/or selling
2 the ColourPop Eye Makeup to retail buyers, and therefore are a “manufacturer” and “seller” within 3 the meaning of Cal. Civ. Code § 1791.

4           85. Defendant knew or had reason to know of the specific use for which the ColourPop
5 Eye Makeup was purchased, as evidenced by Defendant’s marketing efforts, website(s), social 6 media accounts, advertisements, and other statements that promote and encourage consumers to 7 use the Products in the eye area.

8           86. By placing the ColourPop Eye Makeup into the stream of commerce, Defendant
9 provided Plaintiff and Class Members with implied warranties that ColourPop Eye Makeup was
10 merchantable and fit for the ordinary purposes for which it was sold.

11           87. However, the ColourPop Eye Makeup is not fit for its ordinary purpose—use in the 12 eye area—because it contains ingredients that the FDA has deemed not fit for use around the eye
13 area.

14           88. The Harmful Ingredients contained in ColourPop Eye Makeup prevent the Products
15 from being safely used for their intended purpose, and thus constitutes a breach of the implied
16 warranty of merchantability. These problems are caused and exacerbated by Defendant’s failure to
17 adequately disclose to or warn Plaintiff and consumers of the Defect and that ColourPop Eye
18 Makeup is not safe to use in the eye area. Defendant impliedly warranted that ColourPop Eye
19 Makeup was of merchantable quality and fit for such use. These implied warranties included,
20 among other things: (i) a warranty that ColourPop Eye Makeup manufactured, supplied,
21 distributed, and/or sold by Defendant was safe and reliable for use as eyeshadow, eyeliner, or other
22 cosmetic use in the eye area; and (ii) a warranty that ColourPop Eye Makeup would be fit for its 23 principal and intended use as eye makeup.

24           89. Contrary to the applicable implied warranties, ColourPop Eye Makeup, at the time
25 of sale and thereafter, was not fit for its ordinary and intended purpose of providing Plaintiff and
26 Class Members with a cosmetic product that can be safely applied to the eye area without risk of
27 injury. Instead, ColourPop Eye Makeup suffers from a defective design and/or defective
28 manufacturing, as alleged herein.

1           90. Defendant's actions, as complained of herein, breached the implied warranties that
2 ColourPop Eye Makeup was of merchantable quality and fit for such use. See Cal. Civ. Code §§
3 1791.1 and 1792.

4           91. The ColourPop Eye Makeup was defective at the time of sale when it left the
5 exclusive control of Defendant or its agents.

6           92. Defendant's intended beneficiaries of its implied warranties were ultimately Plaintiff
7 and members of the Classes, not third-party retailers, resellers, or distributors who sold the product.
8 Moreover, Defendant exercised substantial control over which outlets can carry and sell ColourPop Eye
9 Makeup, which are the same places that Plaintiff and Class Members purchased the Products. In
10 addition, Defendant's warranties are in no way designed to apply to the third-party retailers, resellers,
11 or distributors who purchase the Products in bulk and then sell it on an individual basis to consumers.
12 Accordingly, these warranties are specifically designed to benefit the individual consumers who
13 purchased ColourPop Eye Makeup.

14           93. Plaintiff and Class Members sustained damages as a direct and proximate result of 15 Defendant's breaches in that they paid an amount for the product that they would not have 16 otherwise paid. Plaintiff and the Class also did not receive the value of the product they paid for—
17 the products are worthless or worth far less than Defendant represents due to the Defect.

18           94. Plaintiff and the Classes have sustained, are sustaining, and will sustain damages if 19 Defendant continues to engage in such deceptive, unfair, and unreasonable conduct.

20           95. Plaintiff and the Class members seek all relief available under the Song-Beverly 21 Act.

22           96. Plaintiff and Class Members are entitled to legal and equitable relief, including 23 injunctive relief, damages, attorneys' fees, litigation expenses and costs, rescission, and/or other 24 relief as deemed appropriate, for an amount to compensate them for not receiving the benefit of 25 their bargain.

COUNT III
(IN THE ALTERNATIVE)
Unjust Enrichment or Restitution
(Individually and on behalf of the Classes)

97. Plaintiff Wilson reasserts the allegations set forth in all preceding paragraphs and incorporates such allegations by reference as if fully set forth herein.

98. This alternative claim is asserted on behalf of Plaintiff and Class Members to the extent there is any determination that any warranties extended to Plaintiff and Class Members by Defendant do not govern the subject matter of the disputes with Defendant, or that Plaintiff does not have standing to assert such claims against Defendant.

99. Plaintiff and Class Members conferred a monetary benefit on Defendant, and Defendant received and had knowledge of this benefit.

100. By their wrongful acts and omissions described herein, including selling Defective ColourPop Eye Makeup, Defendant was unjustly enriched at the expense of Plaintiff and Class Members.

101. Plaintiff and Class Members' detriment and Defendant's enrichment were related to and flowed from the wrongful conduct alleged herein.

102. Defendant has profited from their unlawful, unfair, misleading, and deceptive practices at the expense of Plaintiff and Class Members under circumstances in which it would be inequitable for Defendant to retain the profits, benefits, and other compensation obtained from their wrongful conduct, as described herein in connection with selling the defective ColourPop Eye Makeup.

103. Plaintiff and Class Members have been damaged as a direct and proximate result of Defendant's unjust enrichment because they would not have purchased the ColourPop Eye Makeup on the same terms or for the same price if they had known that the Products were defective or contained federally prohibited ingredients at the time of purchase.

104. Defendant either knew or should have known that payments rendered by Plaintiff and Class Members were given and received with the expectation that ColourPop Eye Makeup was free of defects and was capable of providing the benefits represented by Defendant in the labeling,

1 marketing, and advertising of the Products. It is inequitable for Defendant to retain the benefit of 2 payments under these circumstances.

3 105. Plaintiff and Class Members seek restitution from Defendant and an order from this 4 Court proportionally disgorging all profits, benefits, and other compensation obtained by 5 Defendant from their wrongful conduct and establishing a constructive trust from which Plaintiff
6 and Class Members may seek restitution.

7 106. When required, Plaintiff and Class Members are in privity with Defendant because
8 Defendant's sale of ColourPop Eye Makeup was either direct or through authorized third-party
9 retailers and resellers. Purchases through authorized retailers and resellers are sufficient to create
10 privity because authorized third parties are Defendant's agents for the purpose of selling
11 ColourPop Eye Makeup.

12 107. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's wrongful conduct and unjust
13 enrichment, Plaintiff and Class Members are entitled to restitution of, disgorgement of, and/or 14 imposition of a constructive trust upon all profits, benefits, and other compensation obtained by 15 Defendant for their inequitable and unlawful conduct.

16 108. Plaintiff and the members of the Class have suffered an injury in fact resulting in the
17 loss of money and/or property as a proximate result of the violations of law and wrongful conduct
18 of Defendant alleged herein, and they lack an adequate remedy at law to address the unfair conduct
19 at issue here. Legal remedies available to Plaintiff and class members are inadequate because they
20 are not equally prompt and certain and in other ways efficient as equitable relief. Damages are not
21 equally certain as restitution because the standard that governs restitution is different than the 22 standard that governs damages. Hence, the Court may award restitution even if it determines that
23 Plaintiff fails to sufficiently adduce evidence to support an award of damages. Damages and 24 restitution are not the same amount. Unlike damages, restitution is not limited to the amount of 25 money a defendant wrongfully acquired plus the legal rate of interest. Equitable relief, including 26 restitution, entitles the plaintiff to recover all profits from the wrongdoing, even where the original
27 funds taken have grown far greater than the legal rate of interest would recognize. Legal claims for 28 damages are not equally certain as restitution because claims for restitution entail fewer elements.

1 In short, significant differences in proof and certainty establish that any potential legal claim
2 cannot serve as an adequate remedy at law.

3 COUNT IV
4 Violation of the California False Advertising Law (“FAL”)
5 California Business and Professions Code §§ 17500, *et seq.
6 (Individually and on behalf of the Classes)

7 109. Plaintiff reasserts the allegations set forth in all preceding paragraphs and incorporates 8 such allegations by reference as if fully set forth herein.

9 110. Plaintiff brings this cause of action against Defendant individually and on behalf of 10 the Classes.

11 111. The conduct described herein took place within the state of California and 12 constitutes deceptive or false advertising in violation of California Business and Professions Code
13 §§ 17500, et seq.

14 112. California Business and Professions Code §§ 17500, et seq. prohibits deceptive or 15 misleading practices in connection with advertising or representations made for the purpose of 16 inducing, or which are likely to induce, consumers to purchase products.

17 113. Defendant, when they marketed, advertised, and sold ColourPop Eye Makeup, 18 represented to Plaintiff and Class Members that ColourPop Eye Makeup was free of defects and 19 safe when, in reality, the Products contained Harmful Ingredients that render them defective and 20 unsafe.

21 114. At the time of their misrepresentations and/or omissions, Defendant was either 22 aware that ColourPop Eye Makeup was defective and unsafe or was aware that it lacked the 23 information and/or knowledge required to make such a representation truthfully. Defendant
24 concealed, omitted, and failed to disclose this information to Plaintiff and Class Members.

25 115. Defendant’s packaging and product descriptions were false, misleading, and likely
26 to deceive Plaintiff and other reasonable consumers about the true nature of ColourPop Eye
27 Makeup and the fact that it should not be used in the eye area.

28 116. Defendant’s conduct therefore constitutes deceptive or misleading advertising.

1           117. Plaintiff Wilson has standing to pursue claims under the FAL because she
2 reasonably reviewed and relied on Defendant's packaging, advertising, representations, and
3 marketing materials when selecting and purchasing ColourPop Eye Makeup.

4           118. In reliance on the statements made in Defendant's advertising and marketing
5 materials, and Defendant's omissions and concealment of material facts regarding the quality and 6 use of ColourPop Eye Makeup, Plaintiff and Class Members purchased ColourPop Eye Makeup.

7           119. Had Defendant disclosed the true defective nature of ColourPop Eye Makeup,
8 Plaintiff and Class Members would not have purchased the Products or would have paid
9 substantially less for them.

10           120. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's actions, as set forth herein,
11 Defendant has received ill-gotten gains and/or profits, including but not limited to money from 12 Plaintiff Wilson and Class Members who purchased ColourPop Eye Makeup.

13           121. Plaintiff and Class Members seek injunctive relief, restitution, and disgorgement of 14 any monies wrongfully acquired or retained by Defendant by means of their deceptive or 15 misleading representations, including monies already obtained from Plaintiff and Class Members
16 as provided for by the California Business and Professions Code §§ 17500, et seq.

17           122. Plaintiff and the members of the Class have suffered an injury in fact resulting in the 18 loss of money and/or property as a proximate result of the violations of law and wrongful conduct
19 of Defendant alleged herein, and they lack an adequate remedy at law to address the unfair conduct
20 at issue here. Legal remedies available to Plaintiff and class members are inadequate because they
21 are not equally prompt and certain and in other ways efficient as equitable relief. Damages are not
22 equally certain as restitution because the standard that governs restitution is different than the
23 standard that governs damages. Hence, the Court may award restitution even if it determines that
24 Plaintiff fails to sufficiently adduce evidence to support an award of damages. Damages and
25 restitution are not the same amount. Unlike damages, restitution is not limited to the amount of
26 money a defendant wrongfully acquired plus the legal rate of interest. Equitable relief, including
27 restitution, entitles the plaintiff to recover all profits from the wrongdoing, even where the original
28 funds taken have grown far greater than the legal rate of interest would recognize. Legal claims for

1 damages are not equally certain as restitution because claims under the FAL entail fewer elements.
 2 In short, significant differences in proof and certainty establish that any potential legal claim
 3 cannot serve as an adequate remedy at law.

4 COUNT V
 5 Violation of the California Consumer Legal Remedies Act (“CLRA”),
 6 Civil Code §§ 1750, *et seq.
 7 (Individually and on behalf of the Classes)

8 123. Plaintiff Wilson reasserts the allegations set forth in all preceding paragraphs and 9 incorporates such allegations by reference as if fully set forth herein.

10 124. Plaintiff Wilson brings this cause of action individually and on behalf of the 11 Classes.

12 125. The conduct described herein took place in the state of California and constitutes 13 unfair methods of competition or deceptive acts or practices in violation of the Consumers Legal 14 Remedies Act (“CLRA”), Civil Code §§ 1750, et seq.

15 126. Plaintiff and California Class Members are “consumers” as defined by Civil Code §
 16 1761(d) because they purchased ColourPop Eye Makeup for personal or household use.

17 127. Defendant is a “person” as defined by Civil Code § 1761(c).

18 128. The Products are “goods” as defined by Civil Code § 1761(a).

19 129. Plaintiff and Class Members’ purchases of ColourPop Eye Makeup are 20 “transactions” as defined by Civil Code 25 § 1761(e).

21 130. As set forth below, the CLRA deems the following unfair methods of competition 22 and unfair or deceptive acts or practices undertaken by any person in a transaction intended to 23 result or which does result in the sale or lease of goods or services to any consumer as unlawful.

24 (a) “Representing that goods ... have sponsorship, approval, characteristics, ingredients, 25 uses, benefits, or quantities which they do not have.” Civil Code § 1770(a)(5); and 26 (b) “Representing that goods ... are of a particular standard, quality, or grade, or that goods

 27 are of a particular style or model, if they are of another.” Civil Code § 1770(a)(7).

28 131. Defendant engaged in unfair competition or unfair or deceptive acts or practices in violation of Civil Code §§ 1770(a)(5) and (a)(7) when they represented, through their advertising

1 and other express representations, that ColourPop Eye Makeup had benefits or characteristics that 2 it did not actually have.

3 132. As detailed in the body of this complaint, Defendant has repeatedly engaged in 4 conduct that violates the CLRA and has made false representations and statements to consumers
5 about ColourPop Eye Makeup's benefits, characteristics, and quality. Indeed, Defendant
6 concealed, omitted, and failed to disclose information and facts about the Products which are 7 material to Plaintiff and California Class Members.

8 133. ColourPop Eye Makeup was not and is not "reliable," in that the product is not safe
9 and is of inferior quality and trustworthiness compared to other products in the industry. As 10 detailed above, Defendant further violated the CLRA when they falsely represented that ColourPop
11 Eye Makeup meets a certain standard or quality.

12 134. As detailed above, Defendant violated the CLRA when they advertised ColourPop
13 Eye Makeup with the intent not to sell the Product as advertised and knew that ColourPop Eye
14 Makeup was not as represented.

15 135. Defendant's deceptive practices were specifically designed to induce Plaintiff and 16 Class Members to purchase ColourPop Eye Makeup.

17 136. Defendant engaged in uniform marketing efforts in order to reach and persuade 18 Plaintiff and Class Members to purchase ColourPop Eye Makeup. Defendant's packaging, 19 advertising, marketing, website, and retail product identification and specifications, contain 20 numerous omissions as well as false and misleading statements regarding the quality, safety, and 21 reliability of ColourPop Eye Makeup.

22 137. Despite Defendant's omissions and representations, Defendant also concealed 23 information and material facts from Plaintiff Wilson and Class Members, who reasonably relied on 24 Defendant's representations and omissions of material facts.

25 138. Defendant's business practices are misleading and/or likely to mislead reasonable 26 consumers and should be enjoined.

27 139. On July 27, 2022, prior to the filing of this Complaint, Plaintiff's counsel sent 28 Defendant a CLRA notice letter, which complies in all respects with California Civil Code §

1 1782(a). The letter also provided notice of breach of express and implied warranties. The letter was
2 sent via certified mail, return receipt requested, advising Defendant that it was in violation of the 3 CLRA and demanding that it cease and desist from such violations and make full restitution by 4 refunding the monies received therefrom. The letter stated that it was sent on behalf of Plaintiff and 5 all other similarly situated purchasers.

6 140. In accordance with Civil Code § 1780(a), Plaintiff and Class Members seek 7 damages and injunctive and equitable relief for Defendant's violations of the CLRA, including an 8 injunction to enjoin Defendant from continuing their deceptive advertising and sales practices, and 9 compensatory and punitive damages.

10 141. Plaintiff also seeks punitive damages. Defendant's conduct in deceiving customers
11 and the public, including Plaintiff, about the serious health consequences of using ColourPop Eye
12 Makeup for its intended purpose, concealing material information about the Products' ingredients,
13 and continuing to launch new products with the identical safety defect in violation of United States
14 law, even after Plaintiff put Defendant on notice of the dangers, constituted a conscious disregard 15 or indifference to the life, safety, or rights of persons exposed to such conduct.

16 142. Defendant actively and knowingly participated in the dissemination of 17 misrepresentations and concealment of material information related to the Products.

18 143. Defendant's malicious and fraudulent conduct must be punished to deter future
19 harm to others. Therefore, exemplary damages are appropriate under that the circumstances.

20 144. Defendant has significant relationships with the State of California in regard to the 21 conduct giving rise to punitive damages and the law applicable to this particular issue.

22 145. The malicious conduct described herein occurred and arose from Defendant's
23 headquarters in California from where Defendant made corporate decisions related to selling,
24 promoting, advertising, and labeling the Products. Therefore, Cal. Civ. Code § 3294 applies to the 25 punitive damages' aspect of this case.

26 146. Pursuant to California Civil Code § 1780(a)(1)-(5) and § 1780(e), Plaintiff seeks 27 damages, an order enjoining Defendant from the unlawful practices described above, a declaration that Defendant's conduct violates the Consumers Legal Remedies Act, reasonable attorneys' fees and litigation costs, and any other relief the Court deems proper under the CLRA.
28

COUNT VI
Violations of the California Unfair Competition Law ("UCL"),
Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 17200, *et seq.
(Individually and on behalf of the Classes)

147. Plaintiff Wilson reasserts the allegations set forth in all preceding paragraphs and incorporates such allegations by reference as if fully set forth herein.

148. Plaintiff Wilson brings this cause of action individually and on behalf of the Classes.

149. Defendant is a "person" as defined by Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 17201.

150. Plaintiff Wilson and Class Members suffered an injury, by virtue of purchasing defective cosmetic products, because Defendant misrepresented and/or omitted material facts about the Products' true quality, reliability, safety, use, and ingredients.

151. Had Plaintiff Wilson and Class Members known about Defendant's misrepresentations and/or omissions of material fact, they would not have purchased the Products or would have paid significantly less for them.

152. Defendant's conduct, as alleged herein, violates the laws and public policies of California and the federal government, as set out in the preceding paragraphs of this complaint.

153. There is no benefit to consumers or competition by allowing Defendant to deceptively label, market, and advertise the Products.

154. Plaintiff Wilson and Class Members had no way of reasonably knowing that ColourPop Eye Makeup was deceptively packaged, marketed, advertised, and labeled, or that ColourPop Eye Makeup was defective, unsafe, and unsuitable for its intended use. Thus, Plaintiff Wilson and Class Members could not have reasonably avoided the harm they suffered. Further, this harm outweighs any legitimate justification, motive or reason for packaging, marketing, advertising, and labeling the Products in a deceptive and misleading manner. Accordingly, Defendant's actions are immoral, unethical, unscrupulous, and offend well-established public policies.

1           155. Unlawful Prong. A business act or practice is unlawful pursuant to the UCL if it
2 violates any other law or regulation.

3           156. Defendant's conduct violates FDA regulations and California statutes adopting the 4 FDA regulations, as discussed herein. Defendant's conduct also violates the CLRA.

5           157. Unfairness Prong. A business act or practice is unfair pursuant to the UCL if it is 6 immoral, unethical, oppressive, unscrupulous, or substantially injurious to consumers.

7           158. Defendant's unfair acts and practices include but are not limited to knowingly
8 exposing consumers to unreasonable risk of injury by marketing and advertising the Products as 9 eyeshadow when using the Products in this manner is inherently dangerous.

10           159. Fraudulent Prong: A business act or practice is fraudulent pursuant to the UCL if it
11 is likely to deceive members of the public.

12           160. Defendant took active measures to deceive Plaintiff by representing that the 13 Products were safe for their intended purpose through marketing and advertising communications
14 which instructs and encourages consumers to use the Products in an unsafe manner. Plaintiff relied 15 on these representations and omissions to her detriment.

16           161. Defendant's actions, in disseminating misleading and deceptive statements to 17 consumers throughout the state of California and nationwide, including Plaintiff Wilson and Class
18 Members, were and are likely to deceive reasonable consumers by obfuscating and omitting the 19 Products' true defective nature, and therefore constitute violations of Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§
20 17500, et seq.

21           162. Plaintiff Wilson and Class Members seek injunctive relief prohibiting Defendant
22 from continuing their unlawful, unfair, and fraudulent business practices, and all other equitable 23 relief available to the fullest extent permitted by law.

24           163. Plaintiff and Class Members are entitled to a full refund of the Products' purchase
25 price because mislabeled cosmetics cannot legally be manufactured, advertised, distributed, or 26 sold, and thus, ColourPop Eye Makeup is worthless as a matter of law.

27           164. Plaintiff and the members of the Class have suffered an injury in fact resulting in the
28 loss of money and/or property as a proximate result of the violations of law and wrongful conduct of Defendant alleged herein, and they lack an adequate remedy at law to address the unfair conduct at issue here. Legal remedies available to Plaintiff and class members are inadequate because they are not equally prompt and certain and in other ways efficient as equitable relief. Damages are not equally certain as restitution because the standard that governs restitution is different than the standard that governs damages. Hence, the Court may award restitution even if it determines that Plaintiff fails to sufficiently adduce evidence to support an award of damages. Damages and restitution are not the same amount. Unlike damages, restitution is not limited to the amount of money a defendant wrongfully acquired plus the legal rate of interest. Equitable relief, including restitution, entitles the plaintiff to recover all profits from the wrongdoing, even where the original funds taken have grown far greater than the legal rate of interest would recognize. Legal claims for damages are not equally certain as restitution because claims under the UCL entail few elements. In short, significant differences in proof and certainty establish that any potential legal claim cannot serve as an adequate remedy at law.

COUNT VII

Fraud

(Individually and on behalf of the Classes)

165. Plaintiff Wilson reasserts the allegations set forth in all preceding paragraphs and incorporates such allegations by reference as if fully set forth herein.

166. Plaintiff Wilson brings this cause of action individually and on behalf of the Classes.

167. As discussed above, Defendant provided Plaintiff and Class members with materially false or misleading information about the ColourPop Eye Makeup. Specifically, Defendant instructed consumers to use the Products in the eye area and represented, through its advertising and other express representations that the Products were intended for cosmetic use on the eye area and/or that the products were safe for use in the eye area.

168. Further, Defendant concealed, omitted, and failed to disclose information and facts about the Products which are material to Plaintiff and California Class Members, namely that the products are not safe for use around the eye area, are banned by the FDA for use around the eye

1 area, and/or contain Harmful Ingredients designated by the FDA as unsuitable and unapproved for 2 cosmetic use in the eye area.

3 169. Defendant knew about the Defect and that the Products are banned by the FDA, but 4 nevertheless marketed, advertised, and sold ColourPop Eye Makeup for use around the eyes and 5 without warning consumers of the known dangers.

6 170. The misrepresentations and omissions of material fact made by Defendant, upon 7 which Plaintiff and Class members reasonably and justifiably relied, were intended to induce and 8 actually induced Plaintiff and Class members to purchase the defective Products.

9 171. The fraudulent actions of Defendant caused damage to Plaintiff and Class members, 10 who are entitled to damages and other legal and equitable relief as a result.

11 172. As a result of Defendant's willful and malicious conduct, punitive damages are 12 warranted.
